

secession, and later in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

- Joseph Brewda took up the case of the British destruction of the Ottoman Empire through the creation and deployment of the “Young Turk” movement.

- Michael Minnicino presented a picture of Freudianism as an ideology of pessimism and despair imposed in the post-World War II epoch, especially as it was elaborated into a doctrine of multiculturalism by the New Age Frankfurt School.

- Dennis Speed concluded by juxtaposing the tradition of Frederick Douglass—who rose from slavery to true poetic freedom—with the late nineteenth-century re-imposition of slavery on the African-American population of the United States through the multiculturalist dogma of racist “Jim Crow.”

LaRouche Releases Evidence of Innocence

On March 10, 1994, a twelve-page “Summary of Relevant Evidence On the Record Demonstrating the Innocence of Lyndon LaRouche and Co-Defendants” was issued by the LaRouche Exploratory Committee, in its preparation for a 1996 LaRouche bid for the Democratic nomination for U.S. President. LaRouche, currently out of prison on parole, has demanded full exoneration for himself and his co-defendants of their fraudulent, politically-motivated convictions.

In announcing the release of the first 250,000 booklets, LaRouche spokesman Debra Hanania-Freeman declared that the publication provides the precise location of the facts showing that the Federal government knew at all times, from 1979 to the present day, that the candidate and his co-defendants—in both Federal and state prosecutions—were innocent of the fraudulent charges which the government brought against them. The LaRouche presidential campaign projects printing an estimated five million copies by the end of 1994.

In his introduction, LaRouche states: “I as a presidential candidate stand before you clothed in the great honor of having paid a price for innocence which is far greater than any candidate who has stood for that high office during the recent decades.”

Russian Leaders: Economic, Moral Disaster

Members of the Washington, D.C. diplomatic and political community heard leaders of the Russian intelligentsia make an air-tight case for dropping International Monetary Fund (I.M.F.) shock therapy against Russia, at a Feb. 16 seminar sponsored by Executive Intelligence Review magazine. The experts each described from his own area of specialization how the I.M.F. policies had had a destructive effect on prospects for nation-building in the territory of the former Soviet Union, leading to a unified picture of economic, political, and moral collapse of the Russian nation—which threatens to turn it into a danger for its neighbors and all the world.
